To Whom It May Concern,

We at MICT confirm our interest in commissioning William Cohen on a freelance basis to provide translations tentatively beginning early next year. Mr. Cohen comes to us highly recommended as a skilled Russian-English translator and editor with extensive experience in Russian-to-English translation and editing English language texts.

Given his background and experience, we believe William Cohen is well-suited to assist MICT us on projects that will require the translation of materials and documents from Russian to English.

Contingent upon funding and depending on the complexity of the texts, we intend to Mr. Cohen for his translation services at a tentative rate of €0.013 per sign (including spaces). For any hourly work required, the tentative compensation rate would be €40 per hour.

We look forward to working with Mr. Cohen on our future projects and are confident in his ability to deliver high-quality translations under tight deadlines and complex conditions.

Best regards,
Klaas Glenewinkel
